Workshop Focus

ISO 9001 is a standard that sets out the requirements for a quality management system. It helps businesses and organizations to be more efficient and improve customer satisfaction. A new version of the standard, ISO 9001:2015, has just been launched, replacing the previous version (ISO 9001:2008). The challenges faced by business and organizations today are very different from a few decades ago and ISO 9001 has been updated to take this new environment into account. This helps ensure they remain useful tools for the marketplace. There are increased expectations from customers and other interested parties and, with more access to information, today's wider society has a stronger voice than ever before.

ISO 9001:2015 now follows the same overall structure as other ISO management system standards (known as the High-Level Structure), making it easier for anyone using multiple management systems. There is risk involved in any construction project. A contractor's quality assurance system is essential in preventing problems on occurrence and reoccurrence. The Standards of construction quality systems vary in complexity, ranging from an informal inspection and testing to a comprehensive system according to the ISO clauses.

Objectives of the Workshop:

1. ISO 9000 Awareness
2. Introduction to ISO 9001:2015 QMS
3. Discussing ISO 9001:2015 QMS Clauses
4. Construction Quality
5. Developing some Checklists and Formats for construction activities.
