The Department of Aeronautical Engineering organized an industrial Visit to U R Rao satellite center, ISRO, Bengaluru on 19th Dec 2024. The 3rd semester Aeronautical Engineering students were taken to the visit, as it serves as an ideal stage to familiarize them with satellites and space technology. Prof. Radhakrishnan P and Prof. Albert Allen D coordinated with the students. During the visit, the students observed various satellites and gained knowledge about the advancements in space-related systems and technologies. They learned about satellite development, testing processes, and the intricate engineering involved in space exploration. The visit provided a practical understanding of the applications of aeronautical and aerospace engineering, inspiring students to pursue careers in this dynamic field. It was an enriching experience that bridged academic knowledge with real-world technological innovations. Students interacted with the researchers there and got a lot of information related to the satellites and orbits.
