About the Event:

The Department of Aeronautical Engineering organized a seminar titled "Intellectual Property Rights and IP Management for Startups" on 16th April 2025. The event was conducted in the AE Smart Classroom, with the aim of creating awareness among students about the significance of intellectual property (IP) and its effective management in the context of innovation and entrepreneurship.

The session was delivered by Mr. Lokesh B. S., an experienced startup mentor from Agastya Academy, known for his active engagement in mentoring early-stage innovators and student entrepreneurs. The seminar witnessed the active participation of 56 students.

Key Highlights:

Mr. Lokesh began the session by introducing the different types of intellectual property such as patents, copyrights, trademarks, and industrial designs. He then elaborated on how intellectual property plays a crucial role in safeguarding innovations, especially in technology-driven fields like aerospace engineering. Special focus was given to IP strategy for startups, including how to identify protectable innovations, the process of filing patents in India, international IP considerations, and the role of IP in attracting investment and funding. He also shared several case studies of successful startups that leveraged IP effectively for competitive advantage. An engaging Q&A session followed, where students raised queries related to patent filing timelines, student innovation protection, and collaboration with industry or academia.
