About the Event:

The Department of Aeronautical Engineering organized an insightful session titled “Entrepreneurship and Innovation as a Career Opportunity” on 25th October 2024, as part of its ongoing efforts to nurture innovation and entrepreneurial thinking among engineering students. The program was started at 09.30 AM with the welcome speech and introduction about the guest by Dr.G.Ramanan, HOD, AE Department. The session was delivered by Mr. Lokesh B S, a seasoned Startup Mentor from Agastya Academy, who brought with him extensive experience in mentoring young entrepreneurs and guiding startups across various domains.

The session began with a welcome address by Mr. Ganesh R, Assistant Professor, who highlighted the relevance of entrepreneurship in the current aerospace and technology landscape. Following this, Mr. Lokesh introduced the students to the fundamentals of entrepreneurship, the importance of innovation in addressing real-world problems, and how engineering graduates can transition from being job seekers to job creators.

Key highlights of the session included:

- Real-life case studies of successful startups.
- Key stages of building a startup – from ideation to execution.
- Funding opportunities and government support available for student entrepreneurs.
- The importance of design thinking, risk-taking, and resilience in entrepreneurship.

The interactive session saw enthusiastic participation from 43 students, who actively engaged with the speaker during the Q&A session, sharing their own ideas and seeking guidance on startup challenges. The event concluded with a vote of thanks, appreciating Mr. Lokesh for his motivational and practical insights. The session proved to be an eye-opener for many students and inspired them to explore entrepreneurship as a viable and exciting career path. At the end of session the vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Ganesh R, Assistant Professor, AE Dept. The entire programme was co-ordinate with the support of the management, Principal, Faculty, Professors and students of the Aeronautical Engineering, ACSCE.
