About the Event:

The Aeronautical Engineering Department successfully conducted an Orientation Session for 3rd Semester students on 27th August 2024. The session aimed to welcome the students back to campus after their initial foundational year and guide them into the core phase of their academic journey in aeronautics. The event commenced with a welcome address by Dr.Ramanan, Head of the Department, who highlighted the importance of the upcoming semesters in shaping students' technical and professional growth. He emphasized the significance of aeronautical engineering in the modern world and encouraged students to engage deeply with the curriculum.

Faculty members introduced themselves and provided an overview of the subjects to be covered in the third semester. They also shared insights into upcoming departmental events, lab work, and project opportunities. Special focus was given to safety protocols in the lab, academic expectations, and attendance regulations. Senior students were invited to share their experiences and offered tips on managing academic workload, participating in co-curricular activities, and exploring internships. Their valuable guidance inspired and motivated the juniors. The orientation concluded with an interactive Q&A session where students clarified doubts regarding academic planning, internships, and participation in technical clubs.

Overall, the session proved to be informative and engaging, fostering a sense of belonging and academic enthusiasm among the students. The department reaffirmed its commitment to supporting students in their pursuit of excellence in the field of aeronautical engineering.
